EDITORIAL NOTES.

Telegrams and news items have been reproduced in the newspapers of this city about the guerilla war that has been going on for some months past between the French and the so-called Black Flags. The French officials in Indo-China have suspected for a long time that they consisted to a great extent of regular troops, armed with weapons belonging to the Chinese Government. In the absence of any proof that such was the case, there was a possibility of the French and Chinese Governments coming to terms. But a document, ground of desertion of respondent. recently fallen into the many state public that will render it impossible for the French to any longer ignore the fact that they have all along been fighting the Chinese under the pseudonym of the Black Flags. The following is the copy of the secret decree :-

"An extraordinary Secret Decree, issued in the name of the Emperor of China. The following is an abstract of the document:

" Liu. Head of the Black Flags, is Imperially appointed Generalissimo of Tongking. All funds and munitions of war will be supplied by the Chinese Government as needed.

"The military forces of Yunnan are to be placed umler the the command of T,ang Chiung, Governor of Yunnan, and he is hereby instructed to proceed to the frontier, to join the Black Flags, and to fight the French. The other provinces,-Kuangtung, Kuang-si, etc., -- are to provide forces for protecting the frontier of China, but these are not to "The Governor-General of the Liang Kuang, In Re Daniel Lyons, Publisher of the and the Governors of Kuang-si and Yunnan are to raise funds for the war as required."

After the exposure of such a document as the above, issued, as it purports to be, in the name of the Emperor of China, the difficulties of signing a peace contract are more serious than peacemakers are willing to allow. This is convincing proof that the Chinese have been all along in league with the Annamites. There is one important feature, however, missing from the Secret Decree, and that is a date, but general impression of the Press in China is, that it is not very recent. The Hongkong Daily Press in commenting on this subject says, "the result is likely to cause much trouble in the Far East, the end whereof it is impossible to foresee."

THE AMERICAN SUGAR DUTIES.

Sutting together all the information we ean gather from private sources and from the papers, we come to the conclusion that the likelihood of a further reduction of duty on sugar this yearis not very great. Below we give a copy of a Washington despatch dated just at the close of the year which contains some information as to the tendency of things in Congress. We are assured that the President and his Cabinet neither desire nor expect another reduction of the sugar duty, and it is quite certain | the defendant. He says that he would not have that the Republicans are not by any means | permitted the article to appear if he had seen it, we have nothing to fear at present in this direction. will try to give the proceedings of the House such a character that the tariff question will inevitably be the leading issue of the next Presidential campaign. It is believed it will be the Democratic policy not to make any considerable reductions upon sugar. Louislana men are reported to have promised already that sugar shall not be burt. The Republicans will, unquestionably, urge that there shall be some reduction on sugar. It is quite possible that the Republicans may agree to sugar and give a bounty to American producers. Those who favor this plan claim to have ascertained already that the proposition will receive a strong support among Democrats. Some of the Louisiana men will favor it, and if this plan shall not be approved by Morrison's committee there is a committee of much broader jurisdiction, of larger membership and of greater power, to which the proposition can be submitted—the Committee of the Whole.'

SUPREME COURT-JANUARY TERM. 1884.

MR. JUSTICE McCULLY ON THE BENCH.

Saturday, January 12, 1884. The Court assembled at 10 A. M. The Attorney General called upon Daniel Lyons, Publisher of the Elele Poakolu, a weekly paper published in the Hawaiian language in Honolulu to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of this honorable Court by knowingly publishing on the 19th day of December, 1883, in said paper certain malicious libellous writings reflecting upon a decision rendered by the Chief Justice of this honorable Court is a matter then pending in the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands and tending to bring this honorable Court and the administration of justice into ridicule, contempt, discredit and odium. On Mr. Lyons appearing, the Attorney General remarked to the Court, that the editor of the said newspaper, Mr. John Sheldon, was also in Court, and he had willingly come forward to make a statement concerning the matter in question.

Mr. Sheldon stated that on the day the article was received, he was about to leave the employ of the Elele proprietors, and the said article was put in the hands of printers without his seeing it. Had he perused it before hand, he most certainly would not have allowed it to appear.

His Honor stated that this irresponsibility of newspaper articles, and shifting the blame from the shoulders of the one to the other was to be deprecated. ### The Late Mrs. Makee.

Services were held at 2P.M. on Tuesday last at the family residence on Beretania street over the remains of the late Catherine Makee, reliet of Capt. James Makec.

-The attendance was large and the evidences of sympathy general. The casket lay in the central rooms opening into each other by sliding doors. A profusion of flowers had been employed to form the memorial decerations. At the head of the casket lay a pillow of roses, symbolic of the perfect rest that had been found by her whose mortal frame reposed below it. Against the side of the casket leaned a floral shaft, and at the foot lay a floral sickle, crosses, crowns, harps and various where enquisitaly arrayed tributes of affection, were placed upon the casket or disposed around it. The bestowal of floral decorations was never more appropriately made than in the case of this Catherine Makee, whose life had been almost literally spent among flowers; and whose tastes and sympathies fitted her at once to appreciate their best beauty and to cultivate love of them in others. When their family lived in Nuuanu Valley, opposite the present residence of Queen Emma, the flowers of that delightful home were deservedly famous, and the family home at Ulupalakua might not be more appropriately named if it were located in the valley of Sharon. The funeral services were brief. Rev. S. C. Damon efficiated. Mrs. A. F. Judd. Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mrs. Laura Dickson, Mrs. W. W. Hall, Mrs. S. M. Damon and Mr. J. H. Paty sang the hymns. The services opened with a translation of Spittas hymn, Alles Schwindet; Herzen Brechen. Then Father Damon read portions of the Episcopal burial service, including the extracts from the 39th and 90th Psalms and from the First Corinthians. On his remarks, Mr. Damon alluded to the forty years he and his family had known Mrs. Makee, and spoke appreciatively of the general influence her life had exerted upon the many families with which she had come in contact. After prayer the choir sang Horatius Bonnars' Pilgrim song, and the mourning congregation was dismissed with the benediction.

The remains were shortly afterwards conveyed to the Kinau, to be taken to Ulupalakua for private interment. The immediate members of the family who are able to follow the remains to their last resting place are Mr. Parker N. Makee, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Noonan, and Misses Kittie and Rose Makee. The following account taken from the Saturday Press, is a succinct and appreciative account of one of the most helpful and beautiful of Hawaiian lives.

"On the 18th ultimo there died in San Francisco Mrs. Catherine Makee, mistress of Rose Ranch, Maui. No woman on these islands was better known. Few women in any country have given better reason for grateful remembrance.
